Exit 271: Your Georgia Writer's Resource is the new digital magazine for Georgia writers brought to you by the Georgia Writers Association. Each issue will include several, if not all, of the columns listed below. We are looking for mini-articles for these columns:

1. The Writer's Path - This could be a mini article about your unique or non-traditional path to becoming a writer or it could just be an interesting tale of a day in the life of a writer.
2. The Editor's Pub - This could be anything from advice to personal experience from a writer's or editor's perspective.
3. The Publisher's Pocket - This could be anything to do with your experiences in publishing from a writer's or publisher's perspective.
4. The Freelancer's Pen - This could be anything do with the freelance writer's life.
5. So, You're Too Busy to Write? - This could be anything to do with fitting writing into your everyday life. It's a column for the everyday writer.

PLUS... along with your submissions feel free to include the following:

1. Writing Spaces - Please share a short, one-paragraph blurb about your writing space. How does your writing space keep you exploring, innovating, making connections, being inspired? In other words, how does your writing space keep you creative?
2. Advice from the Idols - Please share a favorite author quote that references creativity.

Exit 271: Your Georgia Writer's Resource is the new digital magazine for Georgia writers brought to you by the Georgia Writers Association. Our November issue will focus on creativity and the writing process.

Where do you get your ideas? How do you nurture them? What is your secret to your creativity? Below are several quotes to get you started.

- “When you make music or write or create, it's really your job to have mind-blowing, irresponsible, condomless sex with whatever idea it is you're writing about at the time.”— Lady Gaga
- “That's the great secret of creativity. You treat ideas like cats: you make them follow you.”— Ray Bradbury, Zen in the Art of Writing

Please email a query for all feature articles. If accepted, articles will be published in our November issue. Thanks!
